

Secondhand Clothing Stores

It seems like one day you are rolling cuffs on your children's brand new pants and the next day you are letting out the hems to cover their ankles. In this tight economy secondhand clothing is making a comeback. In addition to the national Goodwill and ARC stores, there are numerous stores in the Denver-metro area where you can buy children's clothes at a fraction of the cost of retail. To offset the cost even more, don't forget to ask if they buy or consign the clothes your children have outgrown.
